Celebrations of harvest festivals of India

For Novice Level

Students watch You Tube video(s) and the teacher read the story about the celebrations of the various harvest festivals of India - Pola Parv, Bihu and Onam in power point. They also learn about how these festivals are celebrated; what kind of dances and musical instruments are played; what kind of food is eaten and why. Students identify the festivals, ask and answer simple questions about the festivals, and compare and contrast these celebrations with the harvest festival of USA "Thanksgiving" and fill in a Venn diagram. As a final task students will make a storybook or cartoon/comic strip for children on "Harvest festivals of India" with lot of illustrations or make a musical instrument played during the celebrations, and display in the science exhibition for the parents and community on the last day of the camp. Also, students perform the dances of these celebrations in the annual program.
